Clinical education in your hands

iQ is a professional training hub brought to you by one of the UK's market-leading infection prevention specialists, GAMA Healthcare. Designed to educate healthcare professionals about various areas of infection prevention and control (IPC).

Our new training hub features bespoke learning pathways that include Continuing Professional Development (CPD) certified training sessions, which upon completion, users receive a CPD certificate. Additionally, the relevant training videos are endorsed by the Infection Prevention Society (IPS).

iQ has been developed to provide you with the following:

An introduction to IPC

Learn the essentials in infection prevention and control

Bespoke learning pathways

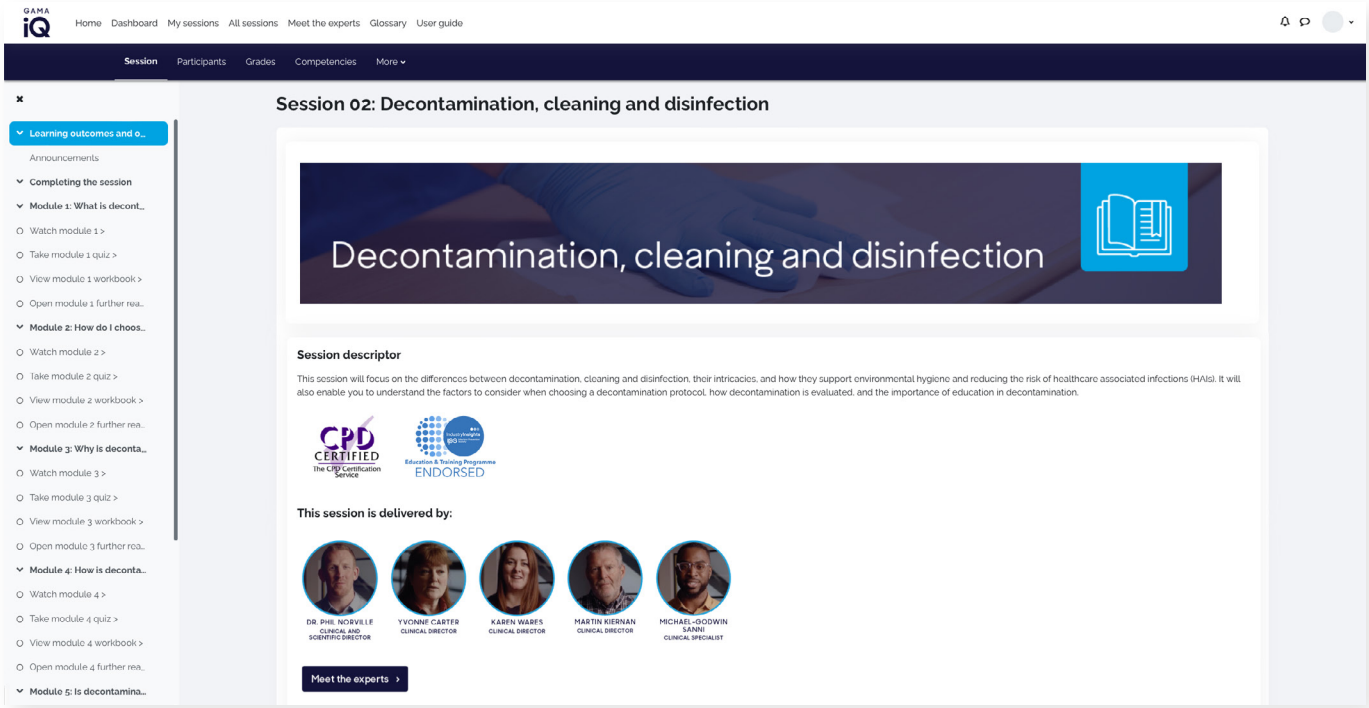
Measurable objectives to track your progress

Practical product demonstrations

See how products work and why they're important

Delivered by clinical experts

Decades of experience working in practice



Valuable and varied subject matter

iQ offers a plethora of training sessions to educate healthcare professionals on practising good IPC methods to help save and improve lives. There are multiple sessions to choose from, including the following:

- An introduction to infection prevention and control
- Decontamination, cleaning and disinfection
- Disinfectants

As a live service, new learning pathways will be continuously added to the iQ platform covering different areas within IPC. Each session features educational videos, quizzes, workbooks and additional reading materials.

Real-world development

As well as expanding your own IPC knowledge, sessions found on iQ include CPD certified and IPS endorsed training sessions so that you can keep up to date with the latest education and training. Whether you're a junior nurse looking to have a greater understanding of IPC or a Senior looking to upskill your team, iQ is here to help improve IPC knowledge and encourage good practice.

After enrolling yourself into specific sessions, you can learn at your own pace, in any order you fancy, with access to module sections anytime you need to refresh yourself.
